Who are we and what do we do?

- “Bindeleddet mellom student og institutt” - The link between student and department
- Convey information from department to student - and vice versa
- Arrange academic events, create communication among students, and share information relevant to the study and working life after the studies.
- Partake in decisions regarding your studies*

- Partake in decisions regarding your studies*

*this means that we have a saying when it comes to the academic offer/ content in your Bachelor or Master studies. F. eks if there are courses or themes we as students believe to be important, we can work towards having the institute make this into an academic course. Furthermore, if the institute is planning to make changes we disagree with, like cutting an academic offer, we are in position to oppose such changes.

What you can gain from joining SAPU

1. Contact with people (the SAPU team) across the different scolar years
2. Extra curricular engagement that can definitely be combined with your studies and be used on your CV
3. Access to courses through SiO (management course, leader course etc)*
4. You also get a free locker in the SV faculty building
5. Shared Office
6. (Påvirkningsevne, innflytelse)

In-house activities
